

Project Leadership Certificate

Project leadership is a skill that takes time to develop. So many project managers look at project management as part art, part science, and part major headache! Developing proper communications flows, understanding motivational strategies and holding people accountable are critical to keep projects on-time and on-budget. Dale Carnegie Training has developed a Project Leadership certificate to develop these critical skills for project management success.

Project Leadership Courses:

- DCP 116 – Skills for Success - 2 credits. $1,895/course

Participants learn to strengthen interpersonal relations, manage stress and handle fast-changing workplace conditions. They become persuasive communicators, creative problem-solvers and confident, enthusiastic leaders.

Choose one of the following two programs:

- DCP 906 – Project Leadership Mastery: Increasing the Motivation and Commitment of your Team - $1,795/course
Scope Statements, WBS's, Gantt and Pert Charts, and all the other great technical tools of project management can't guarantee success because, at the end of the day, people make projects happen. And, it's your job to lead these people – from different departments, with separate agendas, with divided loyalties – to bring the project in successfully, on-time and within budget.
- DCP 907 – Getting Results/Managing without Authority - $1,795/course
You will learn to communicate up, down and across the organization to build consensus; negotiate compromises that work for everyone; resolve group conflicts before they derail the project; use five types of evidence to gain commitment. In addition, through a set of proprietary exercises, you will be shown how to create working alliances and make people glad to do what you need them to do.
- DCP 908 - Present to Inform - $299/online workshop
Whether you are persuading colleagues, selling a client or energizing a team, the power of your presentation makes the difference between success and failure. The experience in this presentations skills training seminar is as close as you can get to having a personal, public speaking training coach. You present at least seven times over the course of two days. Your presentations are videotaped and evaluated plus you get expert one-on-one coaching at the end of each presentation.
